VOL. XLX MIDDLEBURY, VT., SEPTEMBER 16, 1954 NO. 1

Work Begins On "Pomalift", Middle Battell, Artificial Ice

Several steps in Middlebury's long-range development program, outlined at Alumni Day by President Samuel Stratton, were begun this summer when construction started on the third and final wing of Battell Hall, the new artificial ice rink, and the "Pomalift" ski lift at the Snow Bowl.

The new three story Battell Hall wing will connect the two existing wings, Battell North and South which were opened in 1950. The $270,000 building will have accomodations for 100 girls in two singles and the rest double rooms. Recreation rooms will be provided in the basement.

All On Hill

The building will serve to house all the women on the hillside campus. During the past several years many women have been housed off campus in houses, such as Weybridge House and Porter House, which have been deemed inadequate.

"Middle Battell" will be constructed of grey limestone with marble corggnes and window ledges which will harmonize with the existing structures. The stone will come from a nearby quarry in the town of Weybridge. The completion date is set for January 1, 1955, and it is expected that the new facilities will be ready for occupancy for the second semester of this year.

The contractor is R. S. Noonan, Inc., of York, Pennsylvania.

Ice Rink

The artificial ice rink is being constructed in the field house end of the World War II Memorial Field House and Gymnasium. It will provide students with a full program of recreational skating which will not depend on the formation of ice due to freezing weather as it has since the Field House was constructed in 1949. In the past few years, milder winters have cancelled ice hockey practices and games and student ice skating.

A new addition will be built in the rear of the Field House next to the ROTC quarters to house the ice-making machinery. This ad-

New Faculty Members Added To Middlebury College Staff

Fourteen new faculty members will appear this fall on the Middlebury staff in various capacities.

Professor Alford

John Alford will be present at Middlebury in the Fine Arts department as a visiting professor for the year 1954-55. Professor Alford received his B. A. and M. A. degrees form King's College, Cambridge University and did further graduate work at London University.

Professor Alford has held teaching positions at a variety of schools including the University of Toronto, the Toynbee Hall Education Settlement in London. Before his retirement, he acted as the head of the department of the History of Art at the Rhode Island School of Design.

"Van Gogh," "Mondrian: Last Lines," and "The Prophet and the Playboy: Dada Was Not a Farce" are among Professor Alford's principal publications concerning art. His earlier publications were mainly literary including "The Chopbook" in 1920.

Assistant Professors

One of the four new assistant professors is Chung-Ying Chih, Ph. D. University of California and B. Sc. National Tsing Hua University Peiping. Dr. Chih is to teach in the physics department. Other assistant professors are: Lucy O.

Wright To Spend Full Time On Alumni, Ten Year Plan

The appointment of Stanley Wright as Director of Alumni Relations and Middlebury Development Program was announced recently by President Samuel Stratton, who also appointed John Handy, Jr., to the post of Acting Director of Admissions for the 1954-55 academic year.

The president, in making the announcement, praised Wright's work during the past seven years as Director of Admissions for Men...

Wright has resigned the post of Director of Admissions in order to devote full time to his Alumni and Development Program duties. Concurrent with his admissions responsibilities, he also has been Director of Alumni Relations since 1952. The Men's Admissions Department will be staffed by Handy and Gordon Perine, both of whom are Assistant Directors of Admissions for Men. Perine also serves as Director of Placement and in this capacity handles placement problems for many alumni as well as the undergraduates of the college.

Prior to becoming Director of Admissions, Wright was Associate Director of the Middlebury College Memorial Fund which raised $405,366 for the building of a World War II Memorial Field House and Gymnasium. During the seven years that Wright was Director of Admissions for Men he traveled nearly 210,000 miles visiting secondary schools and interviewing some 18,000 prospective candidates for admission. Alpha Sigma Psi, Theta Chi Buy New Fraternity Houses

Alpha Sigma Psi and Theta Chi are now occupying new fraternity houses and are in the process of redecoration. The former has moved to the old Fletcher place, most recently owned by Professor Arthur K. D. Healy, and the latter to the Charter House on Route Seven, next door to Porter House.

The old Fletcher house was purchased outright by Alpha Sigma Psi from Healy, associate professor of fine arts, who is on sabbatical this year. Theta Chi obtained the Charter House from Robert Summers, food service director of the college, in a transaction which gave Summers possession of their old house on Main Street. Both sales were made during the summer.

The new Alpha Sigma Psi house, located two houses south of President Stratton's residence, is situated on two acres of land, the back part of which looks toward Otter Creek and the Green Mountains. Its three stories include a living

"Campus" Tryouts

Are you a potential reporter, editor, photographer, or business man? If you are be sure to try out for the CAMPUS, Middlebury College's only newspaper. There are openings on both the editorial and business staffs. Photographers are particularly needed. Freshmen and sophomores are especially urged to come, but everyone is eligible. Tryouts for the editorial staff, including photographers, will meet on Friday, September 24, at 4:30 in the CAMPUS office, located on the second floor of the Student Union building. Watch for further details concerning business staff tryouts.

Midd-Nite, Dance To End Activities

Middlebury Freshmen, class of '58, are participating in the yearly orientation program presented by the undergraduates and the Dean's Office.

The entering class of 364 students is composed of 224 men and 140 women, including 20 men and seven women transfers, two special students, and two Bowdoin Plan students. The majority of arrivals live in eastern United States, and a smaller number come from the South, Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Venezeula, Argentina and Austria.

Last Sunday, the Blue Key and Mortar Board provided information at the Registrar's office in Old Chapel for the students, and nametags were immediately distributed. After the first Middlebury meal, the Blue Key and proctors visited the Freshman men, and the junior counselors met the Freshman women.

Registration with the Director of Admissions, the French placement test, and the English qualifying test followed on Monday. Student advisors conferred individually with each student, and faculty counselors arranged for appointments. The Freshmen Convocation provided an introduction to the different departments of learning with representative speeches.

Tuesday was spent at the Breadloaf Summer School where the Mountain Club sponsored an outing and hike, so that the class might become better acquainted. At 6:45 p.m., back at school, vesper services were held in Mead Memorial Chapel.

Yesterday's program involved a library orientation and appointments for library instruction, a meeting with ROTC personnel for the men, the President's Reception, and finally the Women's Undergraduate Association reception for women.

Saturday afternoon, an open house will be held by the Wig and Pen and Players, the college drama clubs, and skits and portions of last year's plays will be performed again. At 8 p.m., the annual "Midd-Nite" will begin, with eight original skits including the "Dissipated Eight" and the song "Girls Have Got It Much Much Worse" from last year's Variety Show.

The informal Freshman Dance will be the final event, sponsored by Blue Key and Mortar Board.

Changes For A Time

The undergraduate returning to Middlebury this week should be immediately aware of many changes on campus, at least those of a physical or regulatory nature. If these changes are not self-evident, a reading of this issue of the CAMPUS should make it so.

Outstanding among these changes are, of course, the improvements to the physical plant of the college. "Middle" Battell is being constructed for use as a sophomore women's dormitory and although at present it closely resembles the college playhouse after last year's fire, its construction is on schedule and it should be ready for occupancy by second semester. This will bring all the women back on the hill and of course such traditions as Porter House breakfasts at the Inn will be a thing of the past.

Ice and Snow

The field house end of the Field House is currently being torn apart and the pile of sand in the middle will soon give way to an artificial ice rink which should augur well for hockey teams of this and future years - and for the Winter Carnival ice show, which was melted out last year.

Up at the Snow Bowl a strange device is being imported from France to be installed on the big slope. Called a "pomalift", it can most accurately be said to resemble bicycle seats suspended from a clothes line. Both the new rink and ski tow should be completed by the snow season (the snow season both succeeds and precedes the mud season). With such progress on these improvements, we can but hope that money for the new playhouse and library wings will soon also be raised so that work can begin on these two definite necessities. (A sign of limited progress on another necessity, that of an increased faculty, is shown in the addition of one man in the chemistry department and one half man in the education department.)

Two fraternities have purchased new houses and several others are redecorating their present establishments. There is a new book store manager and his regime is evidenced in the store by merchandise displays of everything from shirts to course outlines and by the providing of such services as check cashing and laundry box mailing. There is also a new but temporary women's dormitory, the old Voter house, and the board track has finally been set up next to the Field House.

Regulatory Changes

Of regulatory changes there are many. The ruling on readmission following academic failure has been made stricter. There is a new and permanent identification card - failing to produce it when requested by college or civil authorities is regarded as reason for disciplinary action. Possession of stolen property is now prohibited by the college and violators of the state liquor laws are subject to dismissal.

For the first time there is a men's dormitory regulation which states, "Television sets may not be set up in rooms." Indeed this comes at an inopportune time for at last Vermont has its own television station; a transmitting tower is being placed on the summit of Mt. Mansfield.

Freshmen

However, in some respects things have not changed at the college. There has ben no appreciable increase in the number of flunks, withdrawls, and entering freshmen. But in the freshmen, themselves, is found the biggest change evident this month, and that is the change that they have made from preparatory schools to Middlebury College. Their adjustment, however, will not be complete in one week of orientation. It is a slow process and, in fact, in some cases may take all of four years. In seeking adjustment and the purpose for which they have come to college, the freshmen can only be advised to keep their eyes and minds open. And not necessarily to television, even though it will be home grown.

Scott To Preach At First Chapel

Chaplain Scott will deliver the sermon at the first regular Sunday chapel this week. Attendance is required for freshmen and sophomores.

The chapel schedule for 1954-55 will be as usual. Monday and Thursday chapel attendance is voluntary, Tuesday attendance is required for sophomores and juniors, and Wednesday chapel is compulsory for freshmen.

Attendance at Sunday chapel is required alternate weeks. The two lower classes attend one week, and the upper classes the other.

Chapel begins at 5 p.m. on Sundays and 10 a.m. on weekdays.

Senior Class Leads Campus Dean's List Representation

The Dean's lists for second semester 1953-54 include 142 members from the three returning classes. The class of 1955 has the most representatives with 39 women and 11 men. The class of 1956 includes 4 men and 41 women; and the class of 1957 is represented by 8 men and 39 women. The lists are as follows:

1955, Men: James Bowden, Stuart Bowne, Frank Clarkson, Paul Clayton, John Fassnacht, George Fernald, Mel Gussow, Robert James, Richard Jewett, Richard Lane and Alden Lank.

dition will provide space for the students to change their skates and shoes. The College food service department will utilize the space during hockey games to provide refreshments for the spectators before games and during intermissions.

Insulated

The plans for the rink provide for raising the entire Field House floor five to six inches. The rink area, approximately 185 by 85 feet, will be covered with two and one half inches of foam glass insulation, a concrete building course, and asphalt topping. The College has provided for treating the entire floor of the Field House so that it can be used for tennis, ROTC drills and other activities when the ice rink is not being used. The outline of the Field House itself will be altered by the installation of, a "multi-cylinder type" compressor on the rear roof. The compressor is five feet square and eight feet high. It is similar to the one used at the Harvard rink.

The rink is scheduled for completion before Thanksgiving Day. It is being installed by The Creamery Package Manufacturing Company of Chicago which has constructed many ice skating, hockey, and curling rinks throughout the United States and Canada. Middlebury's rink will be the first college rink built by the company in New England.

"Pomalift"

Also under construction, is the new modern design "Pomalift" ski lift at Middlebury College's Snow Bowl. When it is completed, Middlebury becomes the first college in the United States to have its own professional-type ski lift.

Funds restricted for the improvement of the Snow Bowl area under the terms of Joseph Battell's will will defray the cost of the ski lift. A gift of $2000 by Dr. Stewart Ross of Rutland, Vermont, a member of the Board of Trustees, started the lift on its way to reality. A member of the class of 1920, Dr. Ross has long been a benefactor of Middlebury's skiing facilities and has often been referred to as the "godfather of the Middlebury College Snow Bowl."

French Import

The "Pomalift" type ski lift will be imported from France. It is in wide use in Europe, especially in France where there are 112 in operation, but Middlebury's lift will be only the fourth one in the United States. About 150 "Pomalifts" are in operation, the latest one being installed at Woodstock, Vermont, in 1953.

Middlebury's new lift will begin at the left of the now-existing tow house and will continue for 3,000 feet up to the top of Worth Mountain near the downhill trail in a diagonal line. It will rise almost 800 feet and have a capacity of 920 persons per hour. It will travel at a speed of up to 15 feet per second. The lift is designed for safety and comfort. Skiers will ride on flexible rubber disk seats. The lift is constructed so that the skiers will not cross skies with their partners and can ride without using their hands.

Trails Cleared

During the summer, Ralph Myhre, manager of the Snow Bowl, Earl Cone of East Middlebury, and a crew of workmen have been clearing new trails in the ski area. About three miles of new trails have been cleared, including a one and one half mile novice trail with wide, gentle slopes for inexpert skiers.

Myhre, Cone and crew will install the new "Pomalift" when it arrives from France. It is expected that the lift will be ready for operation by December 1, 1954.

New Manager Changes Look Of Bookstore

The Middlebury College Book Store has a new manager and a new look for fall. John Clemons is the new director and the first person to hold the position on a full time basis. His responsibilities also include direction of the mail service and the print shop.

Clemons comes to Middlebury from the Cascade Paper Company. Previously he ran an art supply store in Concord, New Hampshire.

The new look in the book store is based on the idea that the book store exists as a service to the students. Clemons plans to revise the merchandise and the service in accordance with this policy.

Much of the new merchandise will be for the benefit of the women students. Already cosmetics, scarves, and other such items are on sale.

Later the store will carry gifts suitable for Christmas presents. Clemons encourages students to bring their suggestions to the bookstore so that he can stock accordingly. He says students should not have to go down street for small items, but he has to know what they need.

In the mailing line, the book store hopes to have a complete mail service by the first of the week. Students will be able to mail packages and laundry cases from the Student Union.

Voter House Used As Woman's Dorm

The Voter House, located next to the Casa Espanola, is being used as a women's dormitory, according to Mrs. Elizabeth B. Kelly, dean of women. It has been redecorated and will accommodate eight sophomore and junior women until the completion of the new building between the Battells.

Acting as house resident in Voter House will be Jean MacDonald '55. Other house directors for the year 1954-55 are as follows: Battell North, Mrs. Margaret A. Curtis; Battell South, Mrs. Gertrude F. Peterson; Le Chateau, Mlle. Lea Binand; Forest East, Miss Fleda Martin; Forest West, Miss Katherine McGlynn; Hillcrest, Miss Paula Boesch '54; Homestead, Miss Patricia McCarthy; La Casa Espanola, Senorita Marina Bourgeal; Pearsons, Mrs. Edith R. Foster; Porter, Mrs. Grace Thompson; Weybridge, Miss M. Lillian Hunter; and Willard, Miss Phyllis Mercaldi '53.

Fulbright Grants Are Now Available

Fulbright Scholarship competitions, held annually for students interested in graduate study abroad, are now open for 1955-56 and will close November 1.

These awards, which have sent over 3500 American students abroad since the program began in 1947, are granted by the Board of Foreign Scholarships, which is appointed by the President. Almost 1000 students will benefit from the program this year.

Eligibility requirements for Fulbright grants include United States citizenship, a college degree or equivalent at time study is to be undertaken, knowledge of the language of the country sufficient to carry on the study, and good health. The scholarships, made entirely in the currency of the participating countries abroad, cover transportation, tuition, books, and maintenance for one academic year. Twenty-two European, Asiatic, and island nations participate in the program.

Buenos Aires Convention scholarships, which provide for study in sixteen Central and South American countries, are also available. This program is set up so that transportation is provided by the United States government and tuition and maintenance is provided by the host state. Students studying under this plan are selected by the Institute of International Education and the participating country.

Application blanks and brochures describing both plans are available at the Dean's office.

Wright

6,000 applications received during the seven year period, he selected 1,400 students for 28 different states, Canada, and foreign countries for admission to Middlebury College. Approximately one-sixth of the living alumni of the college were admitted to Middlebury by Wright.

Wright will work closely with a special Trustee committee named to organize and conduct the Development Program, which will get fully underway this fall with a goal of three million dollars, Edwin Sunderland of New York City is the chairman of the committee which also includes Horace Ford, Cambridge, Mass.; Joseph Milliken, North Dighton, Mass.; William Edmunds, Burlington, Vt.; and Carleton Simmons of Boston, Mass.

The purpose of the Development program is to raise funds for the following items:

1. A center for dramatics, speech and debating, Little Theater, and audio work in the languages.

2. Increased endowment to capitalize scholarships being granted from other funds, and to enlarge the scope of the entire scholarship program. Endowment also for faculty salaries and to make provisions for improving the faculty-student ratio.

3. Wings for the Egbert Starr Library to provide much-needed space for the library facilities which have become inadequate during the past 15 years.

4. Improved facilities for the physical sciences.

Some phases of the Development Program are already on the way to becoming realities. Construction on a new women's dormitory was started several weeks ago and it is expected to be ready for occupancy in January, 1955. To provide better recreational facilities for its students, Middlebury will install an artificial ice rink in the Memorial Field House, and a new ski lift in the college's nationally-known Snow Bowl. Special funds have been allocated for these projects and both are expected to be ready for use in the near future.

New Houses

room, study, music room, dining room and kitchen on the first floor, eight study rooms on the second floor, and two large sleeping rooms on the third. Also on the property is a two story mansard barn, with a basement equipped with stalls, and a fully landscaped garden. The house has sleeping quarters for about thirty men.

Charter House, so named because it was the sight of the first discussion in 1798 which led to the eventual founding of Middlebury College, is located at the head of Main Street on Pleasant. With the annex which lies on the rear of the property, Charter House has forty one rooms which will house thirty four members and a house mother. According to Russell Smith '55, house president, both buildings will be repainted and a parking lot will be set up between them.

Panthers Drill For 3rd Week; Prepare For '54 Grid Season

By Mal Davidson

September 25th will mark the opening of the 1954 Panther football season, with the Midd team playing host to the ever powerful Wesleyan Cardinals. Some of us will remember the brilliant 12-7 upset the Middmen pulled up over these same Cardinals down at Middletown, Conn., last season. This year the Panthers will be out to make it two in a row over Wesleyan who should be stronger than they were a year ago, due to the fact that last year's Cardinal team was made up mainly of sophomores who will have a year's varsity experience under their belts.

This year's Middlebury team, some twenty-six strong at the moment will be led by George Limbach, a 205 pound senior from Hudson, Ohio. Captain Limbach has been a regular for the last three years, and has played both in the backfield and at end. This year George will be an end if Coach Duke Nelson's present plans go through. Beside him at one of the tackle positions will be either Mark Benz, a 200 pound junior, or Hal Higgens. Higgens, usually a regular, suffered a leg injury during one of the practice sessions, and may not be able to start against Wesleyan. If this is the case, either Bob Dean, Barkley Johnson or Lou Kempton will step in to plug the hole. None of these boys saw too much action last year, but they should prove valuable assets as they gain experience. The guard slots are filled by Bill Admirand and Bob Beattie, both of whom played regularly last year. Backing them up if needed, are Dan Wright, and Don Small. Dan helped coach the junior varsity last year, and Small is up from the freshman team.

At center coach Nelson plans to use either Harry Johnson, Jim McCann or Bob Morris, but all three will probably see action. Center looms as one of the problems this year, but Morris saw duty there last year when Beattie moved over to guard, and both Johnson and McCann will improve as they gain experience. To round out the line, there are Dick Baxter, Henry Wilson, and Channing Murdoch, all candidates for the other end position. Dick Baxter will probably get the nod in this game as he is a senior with two years of varsity ball behind him. The main problem in the line this year seems to be the lack of depth and weight. Middlebury will greatly miss Cary Smith, last year's towering captain, and a mainstay in the line.

Turning to the backfield we find that here too the loss of several of last year's regulars will hurt the Midd attack. John Zabriskie, the leading ground gainer and All-Vermont fullback in 1953 will not be available this fall due to a head injury suffered in an auto accident last winter. Frank Gianforti, a speedy scatback of a year ago had a knee operation early this fall, and will be out of action for the season. However, Dick Makin, a three year veteran, Sonny Dennis, the rangy wingback, and Jack Kittell are all back, and they will be ably assisted by Zip Rausa, Bill Holmes, Mike Philbin, and newcomer Hap Freeman. This is Freeman's first year at football here, but the popular senior Lacrosse captain is improving quickly and should get the nod at fullback along with Roger Tirone who has been looking good at Zabriskie's old slot. On top of all this talent Duke Nelson has Pete Cooper, Randy Sargent, Joe Lee, and George Cory, all sophomores. These boys are hampered only by their relative lack of experience, and all may concievably see duty during the season. Generally, the backfield situation seems a little more stable than the line, but here again, a lack of weight is evident. If this can be overcome by speed, drive, and finesse, the Panthers will be blest with a fine running unit.

In order to get in shape for the tough schedule, the boys have been working out morning and afternoon since September 1st. Feature of the season thus far was the scrimmage with St. Lawrence, in which each team scored one touchdown. Coach Nelson was very pleased with the showing of the team, and expresses particular enthusiasm over the morale and spirit of the squad. Optimism is high in the camp that this year's team will better last season's two and five record.

The Bye - Line

By Walt Mears

It will be several week's before Middlebury's intra-mural athletic program gets into full swing, but until that time Red Kelley's recently announced plans for expansion of the already impressive sub-varsity schedule should provide the Bush Leaguers with something to think about.

Intra-mural hockey, until this year a somewhat weak link in the bush program because of the perennial ice problem, will be completely revamped with the completion of Middlbury's artificial ice plant. In previous years, bush league hockey has been played on an elimination basis, but this year the fraternity boys will play a full forty-five game schedule or a round robin tournament.

A new innovation in bush league sports will be the plan for inter-class sports devised by Red and President Stratton. Double round robin tournaments will be played on an inter-class basis in touch football, volley ball, basketball, hockey, softball, and track. An inter-class ski meet may also be added to this schedule. President Stratton has donated a trophy to be awarded to the class which accumulated the largest number of points on the basis of points awarded for the position in which each class finishes in each sport.

With these expansions in intra-mural sports in order, plus the boost which artificial ice will give varsity hockey, and the new sk lift which will be installed at the Snow Bowl by this winter, 1954 should be a banner year for Middlebury sports on all levels.

Letter To The Editor

(Editor's note: The following letter was received last May too late for publication. It was written in answer to another letter published in the CAMPUS. Although somewhat out of season at the present time, it was thought of sufficient interest to print.)

To the Editor: In reply to a letter to the CAMPUS by Anne Davis '54 and published in the issue of May 13 may I say:

Tradition in this modern world is pushed aside too often in the name of so-called progress, freedom or individuality - call it what you will.

Anne, or her contemporaries who agree with her at Middlebury or elsewhere, will have to be returning for perhaps their twenty fifth reunion before they will realize that tradition makes fine things - especially colleges - and fine colleges make beautiful memories for their graduates.

Middlebury is unique in its location, spirit, and atmosphere. Much of the last two stem from tradition. Huge institutions today are turning out bachelors in art and science by the hundreds such as Douglas or Republic turn out planes, in great quantities yet still of good quality - to meet the needs of the times - but Middlebury seems to be able to find a bit of extra time to devote to the culture and final polish of each graduate - just because tradition has always set so fine a standard at Middlebury. Let each undergraduate there stop a moment to evaluate the kind of education and culture which that fine school offers, and ask himself if he can do better in absorbing more of it for himself by changing his sights a wee bit.

Cane Ceremony is one of the most dignified, beautiful ceremonies of graduation weekend. It is most fitting in that weekend program, and it leaves with most seniors one of their treasured memories of college days - a short four years of happiness never to be equalled or recaptured. So, juniors, what is an extra week or a few days earlier getting home worth in the span of a lifetime? You will not remember whether you got home June 1, 10, 15, or 30 when your are 25 years away from college, but you will remember Cane Ceremony both as a junior and a senior.

Your parents, too, who have spent so much of their time, love, interest, and money on your development and education thrill to graduation weekend and its ceremonies especially with you a part of it. If these were held at another time they could not enjoy them with you. Is that fair?

Take heed and advice from the mother of a 1952 Middlebury grad. You have a unique and outstanding college - be proud of her always. Then there will always be what America needs most - such traditions as Wellesley Daisy Chain, Bryn Mawr's Maypole, and - Middlebury's Cane Ceremony - and fine spirited, high caliber people to carry them on.

Progress is never made by sacrificing quality.

Sincerely yours,
Helen C. Thomsen (Mrs. Norman E).

Midd Memo

Last Sunday many freshmen dropped into the Registrar's Office for keys, cards, and information. A few female freshmen asked directions to Battell North and Battell South, but the show stopper was the young thing who walked in and asked simply (or simply asked), "What do I do?" There was no immediate answer.

Absent-minded Professor Department: Before leaving on his sabbatical, Nature-lover Arthur Healy decided to remind Alpha Sigma Psi to spray the elm trees on the property which it had just bought from him. He therefore sent a letter to Sigma Phi Epsilon advising them to give the proper treatment to the elm trees. The reaction of the Sig Eps is unrecorded.

This year the Blue Key distributed a list of Men's Freshman Customs to the freshmen. These include, "Speak courteously to all members of the faculty and upperclasses", "Learn all college songs and cheers", "Do not be conspicuous in or about town", and "Your attitude should be one of congeniality, respect, and regard for upper-classmen, faculty, and College." The last sentence of the sheet is, "If Middlebury beats UVM, all freshmen customs are off."

Looks like anarchy at Middlebury if UVM loses.

Pool, Ph. D. Iowa State College, in chemistry; Charles Fenno Hoffman, A. B., Harvard and Ph. D. University of Pennsylvania, in English.

Paula J. Boesch, A. B. Middlebury, returns to the chemistry department as a lecturer. Also lecturing are Mrs. Mary E. Harshbarger, M. A. State University of Iowa, in education and Charles L. Sanford, B. A. Middlebury and Ph. D. Harvard, in American Literature.

Artists, Students Exhibit Paintings

An exhibition of paintings done by Middlebury students is now being shown at the Vermont Bookshop Gallery. Depicting typical scenes around Middlebury, the paintings were done during the last two years and are mainly watercolors.

Those taking part in the exhibition are Jeremy Foss '54, Wendall Shepard '54, Ferdinand Wyckoff '54, Juliette Camden '54, Jane Pope '54, Jo Anne Ver Bryck '54, Alan Frese '55, Daphne Knapp '55, Jo Anne Smith '55, Anne Stringer '55, Lucille Withington '55, Maureen Craig '56, Denny Dolan '56 and Josephine Paleologue '56.

Also on display are a group of selected paintings and prints by local Middlebury artists, including Arthur K. D. Healy, associate professor of Fine Arts, and Patience Haley, the Gallery Director. Both of these exhibitions will be held through October.

Marshall Awards Given By England

Applications for Marshall Scholarships, offered by the government of Great Britain, are due by September 30, 1954, it was announced by W. Storrs Lee, Dean of Men.

Twelve of these scholarships are offered yearly to enable United States citizens, graduates of United States universities, to study for two years at universities or university colleges in the United Kingdom.

Awards are made on a regional basis, three scholarships being allotted to each of four regions in the United States. Vermont is in the Eastern Region. Committees in these four regions will examine applications, and after interviewing the most promising candidates, will forward lists of three selected candidates and three alternates in order of merit, to an advisory council in Washington presided over by the British ambassador.

Candidates will be judged on intellect and character as evidenced by their scholastic attainments and by their other activities and achievements. Preference will be given to candidates who combine high academic ability with the capacity to play an active part in the life of the United Kingdom university to which they go.

These scholarships are an expression of gratitude for Marshall aid. They are open to men and women. Detailed information in the Dean's office.

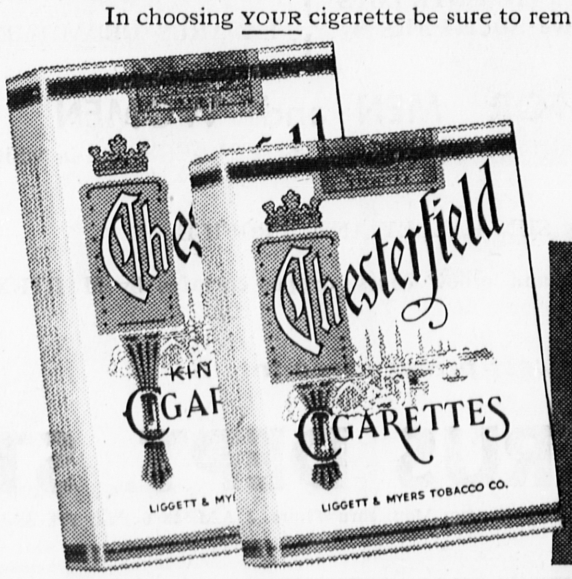
CHESTERFIELD IS THE LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES

THIS Chesterfield leadership is shown by actual sales audits in more than 800 college co-ops and campus stores from coast to coast.

In choosing YOUR cigarette be sure to remember this! You will like Chesterfield best because only Chesterfield has the right combination of the world's best tobaccos – highest in quality, low in nicotine – best for you. All of us smoke for relaxation, for comfort, for satisfaction – and in the whole wide world no cigarette satisfies like a Chesterfield.

You smoke with the greatest pleasure when your cigarette is Chesterfield . . . Yes, these six words "highest in quality—low in nicotine" mean Chesterfield is best for you. Buy 'em king-size—or regular.



CHESTERFIELD
BEST FOR YOU
